Dear Mark,

I really appreciate the time you spent discussing our situation last week. In two hours you were able to assess our situation and provide succinct guidance, thereby saving countless hours of time we would have spent on ultimately non-productive activities.

Your varied experiences in start ups and established companies, in small and large companies, in hardware and software, ultimately is able to efficiently shape a strategy that fits our needs exactly.

I would highly recommend your services to anyone with a need to start or grow a business. Please let me know if I can ever be of such service.

Regards,
